GENERAL REMARKS.

DISTRICT No. 1,—EDWARD HERRICK, Agent.

The summer term commenced May 28th, with Mattie E. Carter as teacher. This was Miss Carter's first school, and excellent progress was made in all the branches taught.

Miss Ella B. Carter taught the winter term commencing Oct. 1. Miss Carter is an experienced teacher and has before had charge of this school. Discipline and advancement good.

DISTRICT No. 2,—GILBERT YATES, Agent.

The summer term was taught by Miss Ella B. Carter, commencing May 15th. Miss Carter has had charge of this school before, and fully maintained her former reputation as a teacher.

Mr. Alton Curtis taught the winter term beginning Dec. 3d. Mr. Curtis came well recommended but failed to give good satisfaction, which rendered the term very unprofitable. To secure good results in this district a more experienced teacher is needed.

DISTRICT No. 3,—MOSES SWAN, Agent.

This district had but one term of school, which began August 13th and continued nine weeks, with Miss Tena Millett teaching. Miss Millett is an experienced teacher, but failed to some extent in preserving order, without which no school can be successful.

DISTRICT No. 4,—GEO. TUBBS, Agent.

This district had but one term, commencing Dec. 3d, under the charge of Miss Sadie H. Barker. This was Miss Barker's first term and with experience she will become a successful teacher. Good advancement was made with a fair degree of thoroughness.

DISTRICT No. 5,—GEO. W. T. DOUGHTY, Agent.

The summer term taught by Miss Hannah J. Noyes, began May 14th and closed July 21st, making a term of ten weeks. This was Miss Noyes' fifth term in the district.

Mr. Charles L. Buck taught the winter term which commenced Dec. 3d. This was Mr. Buck's second term in this district and the examination at the close showed that he had worked for the interest of his school. Some of the best scholars in town are to be found in this district.

DISTRICT No. 7,—D. W. GOODWIN, Agent.

Miss Emma L. Parker taught the summer term beginning June 14th. This was Miss Parker's first school and although she seemed possessed of the necessary qualities for a successful teacher, she failed to hold the interest of the scholars to the end of the term.

The winter term commenced Nov. 19th, Miss Alcina Kendall teaching a very successful term in every respect. Miss Kendall has had a wide experience in teaching and has no superior as an instructor.

DISTRICT No. 8,—HARRY D. COLE, Agent.

The summer term opened May 14th and closed June 29th. Miss Mabel M. Wyman was the successful teacher, conducting thirty-two daily recitations in a very satisfactory manner.

Mr. Charles A. Brooks commenced the winter term, Nov 24th, and labored hard for the interest of the school. Good discipline characterized the term.

DISTRICT No. 9,—K. T. BRYANT, Agent.

The summer term began June 10th and continued seven weeks, with Sadie E. Bryant as teacher. This was Miss Bryant's first attempt at teaching and she succeeded well as a beginner.

Mr. Curtis E. Abbott had charge of the winter term commencing Nov. 5th. This was Mr. Abbott's first school. I visited there Nov. 12th to find the promise of a pleasant and profitable school, which I found at the close of the term had been well fulfilled.

DISTRICT No. 10,—LEWIS T. BRYANT, Agent.

This district had three terms. The summer term commenced May 14th, Miss Thola Goddard teaching an excellent school. Order, advancement and thoroughness good.

Miss Mabel L. Perham taught a fall term of eight weeks, beginning August 27th. Miss Perham is an excellent scholar and an experienced teacher. Good progress was made during the term.

The winter term taught by Mr. C. P. Kimball commenced Nov. 12th. Good advancement was made in all branches and Mr. Kimball proved himself to be a thorough instructor and an excellent disciplinarian.

This district has been exceedingly fortunate the past year in securing the services of three good teachers.

DISTRICT NO. 11—RANSOM COLE, Agent.

The summer term began May 12th under the instruction of Miss M. Emma Small of Lewiston. Miss Small created an unusual good interest in this school which was maintained to the end of the term. This was Miss Small's first experience in the school-room as a teacher.

The winter term commenced Nov. 5th, with Miss Nellie Elwell teaching her first school. The school was small and Miss Elwell succeeded fairly well.

DISTRICT No. 12.—L. R. COLE, Agent.

Mrs. Ellen P. Kimball taught the winter term which commenced May 14th and continued eight weeks. Mrs. Kimball has had a wide experience in teaching, this being her fifty-fifth term.

Miss Hannah J. Noyes had charge of the winter term beginning October 22d.

DISTRICT No. 13,—FRANK E. VERRILL, Agent.

This is the smallest district in town, but has had twenty-two weeks of excellent school, which is much better than is often done in many larger districts. The success of this school is due especially to the intense interest taken by the few inhabitants in the district, in school work. They not only gave board and fuel, but taxed themselves heavily for repairing their school-house, which is now one of the best in town of its size.

The summer term under the charge of Miss Gertie M. Bennett, commenced May 21st. Miss Mary E. Herrick taught the winter term, beginning August 20th. Both teachers were inexperienced, but gave excellent satisfaction to both parents and supervisor.

Respectfully submitted,

Hannah J. Noyes.
